Globalising Eastern Europe – New Perspectives on Transregional Entanglements

16–19 September 2020, Leipzig

Organised by EEGA and BASEES in cooperation with the Centre for East European and International Studies (ZOiS), and the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Osteuropakunde e. V. (DGO), both Berlin.

Call for Papers: 13 January–31 March 2020

Abstract

Following the first successful Regional Conference in Uppsala, Sweden, the British Association for Slavonic and East European Studies (BASEES) organises its second Regional Conference in cooperation with the Leibniz ScienceCampus “Eastern Europe – Global Area” (EEGA) in September 2020, in Leipzig, Germany. Under the theme “Globalising Eastern Europe – New Perspectives on Transregional Entanglements”, we seek to stimulate and discuss research on these border-crossing encounters in a comparative perspective. Aiming to stimulate a debate about interpretations across historical periods and geographical spaces, the conference brings together perspectives and case studies from a variety of disciplines. In thematic panels, round table discussions and interactive workshops dedicated to knowledge transfer and innovative science communication, about 100 international junior and senior scholars present their research on Eastern Europe, an area spanning from Poland in the West to Russia in the East, to the Balkans and the Caucasus in the South, in its global and transregional entanglements. A PechaKucha Night for young researchers will open the interdisciplinary exchange on 15 September at ZOiS (Berlin).

Call for Papers

After an excellent response to our earlier Call for Panels we now cordially invite proposals for individual papers. We specifically look for paper proposals that complement and fill slots in already existing panels while also expanding the intellectual range of the conference’s programme. We particularly welcome proposals addressing the following fields of inquiry:

- Youth: Attitudes, Participation and Transnationalism
- National Education and Globalized Academic Standards
- Economic Development under the Global Condition
- Populist Movements and Forms of Authoritarianism in their Transnational Entanglements

Submission:

BASEES, EEGA and the cooperating partners invite academics, especially at PhD and postdoc level, to submit paper proposals (incl. title, abstract, name and e-mail address) through the online submission form at <https://www.leibniz-eeга.de/events/conferences/basees/>. Proposals can be submitted until 31 March 2020. The selection will be made by an international programme committee in April 2020. The authors of paper proposals will be notified of the result shortly after.

In addition to papers that address the issues described above, EEGA invites colleagues from academia and the media to discuss how these highly relevant questions can be transferred into the public debate, especially with regard to Eastern Europe and its global interdependence. Further information on knowledge transfer workshops and application/registration procedures are soon to be found here.

Costs:

For participation fee we offer an early-bird rate: four-day attendance 75 EUR (full); 25 EUR (students). The early bird rate ends on 10 May 2020. Standard rates are 100 EUR (full); 50 EUR (students).

Successful applicants are eligible to apply for one of the scholarships provided for excellent researchers (postgraduate, postdoc and advanced scholars). Scholarships are provided by both EEGA and ZOIS. Please check guide lines and further information on the respective websites. The call for applications for scholarships opens 1 February 2020.

Unfortunately, we cannot provide additional travel grants, but will organise accommodation suiting different needs and financial situations.
